An aerial view of a modern waterfront resort. The scene features a large, curved pier or breakwater extending into the turquoise ocean. To the left of the pier is a sandy beach with several lounge chairs and palm trees. The pier itself is lined with palm trees and has a paved walkway. In the center of the pier is a large, modern building with a flat roof and a circular structure on top. To the right of the pier is a marina with several boats docked. The water is a vibrant blue, and the sky is clear. The overall atmosphere is one of a luxurious and modern coastal destination.
